TRACED IN FIRE.

Glow Pictures Are Spectacular and Easy to Make.

To make glow pictures forty parts of salt paper are added to twenty parts of gum arabic, and the whole is dissolved in forty parts of water. An ounce or two of this mixture will be sufficient to prepare a good many pictures. A few sheets of white paper should next be secured, and this should be rather thin, similar to that which is used for typewriting.

Now take a clean pen and draw the picture on the paper, using the solution, which should be slightly warmed by standing the bottle in hot water. Anything may be delineated, the only essential point being that all the lines must connect. The final line should be drawn down to the corner of the sheet, and this spot may be indicated with a pencil cross. Hang the sheets up to dry, and when the process is complete the lines are practically invisible.

To bring up the picture first of all turn down the borders of the sheet of paper in such a way that it is raised above the surface which will not be injured by the slight smoldering of the paper. Get a match and light it, placing the glowing end of the point where the pencil cross was made on the sheet.

A trail of red fire will at once start to burn out the picture, following the lines which have been drawn. No other part of the design catches on fire save that which has been treated with the solution. Finally the picture stands up in strong black lines, and the effect is very curious. There is absolutely no danger from fire in this little experiment.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Has Used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 20 Years

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my household for the past twenty years. I began giving it to my children when they were small. As a quick relief for croup, whooping cough, and ordinary colds, it has no equal. Being free from opium and other harmful drugs, I never felt afraid to give it to the children. I have recommended it to a large number of friends and neighbors, who have used it and speak highly of it," writes Mrs. Mary Minke, Shortsville, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

"Hang on Tight"

When a smoking car with thirty-five passengers jumped the track a railroad engineer in the car, off duty, yelled to the passengers to "hang on tight," and while the car turned over no one was hurt.

"Hang on tight" is good advice in most upsets. The man who hangs on tight to himself when his temper is upset will get through without hurting either himself or others. The man who "hangs on tight" to his earnings ends with a competence. The man who "hangs on tight" to his place when business upsets come generally holds down his job. The man who "hangs on tight" when discouragement or even disaster upsets others is a man to be hopeful about, because he will keep right side up whatever else turns over. —Philadelphia Press.

How Mr. Davis Got Rid of a Bad Cough.

"Some time ago I had a very bad cough," writes Lewis T. Davis, Blackwater, Del. "My brother McCabe gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After taking this I bought half a dozen bottles of it but only used one of them as the cough left me and I have not been troubled since." Obtainable everywhere.

The Secret of Harmony.

Young Mrs. Mead, whose experience of married life had been brief and happy, had just engaged two servants, a man and his wife.

"I am so glad you are married," she said to the man with whom she had made terms. "I hope you are very, very happy and that you and your wife never have any difference of opinion."

"Faith, ma'am, O! couldn't say that," replied the new servant, "for we have a good many, but O! don't let my wife know of them, and so we do gettin' along well."

Displaced.
